Council Wrong

City council on Monday night decided to do nothing to save the oldest building in Kelowna and the city's first post office. As far as the members of the city council were concerned the building is to be destroyed.

This shocking and callous decision ignores the pleas of those interested in preserving our historical past. This area is in the stage of change and of time when the tangible evidence of its history is rapidly disappearing for want of interest and a little effort. Already much valuable historical items have been allowed to disappear. This is a position many other older communities have found themselves in, to their regret.

It is almost a certainty that in a few years, there will be regrets that council on Monday night took the position it did. When that building is destroyed, an irreplaceable bit of Kelowna will have disappeared. It is the oldest building in Kelowna, having been built in 1892 and it was the city's first post office. It served this function only a few months, it is true, but nevertheless it was the first post office.

True, it is a building and as such just can't be stored in a museum or some convenient cupboard. This would appear to be the main objection of the members of the city council. However, there has been an offer to move the building anywhere without cost to the city, and it would seem logical to accept the offer and find a temporary spot for it.

It could be placed temporarily on the civic centre parking lot. Or it could be placed on either a temporary or permanent basis on the city park property at the corner of Doyle and St. Paul. Or there are a dozen other places where it might be put until a permanent location is decided.

City council, which normally is very keen to adopt any policy which it believes to be beneficial to the interests of this city, has made a mistake in this instance. It has allowed the crass needs of today to becloud its vision.

The building is only 70 years old; not old at all by some standards but really ancient in this young city. And it is the oldest building now standing in the city. The point is that with every passing day and every passing year the building historically and sentimentally becomes more valuable.

It would be pleasant, indeed, if council would take a second look at its Monday decision and take advantage of the offer to move the building, even to a temporary location, in order that further and more studied consideration may be given to its future.

Fascist Rally Pleas Rejected

LONDON (Reuters) — The works ministry today rejected requests from three British Neo-Fascist political parties to hold rallies in Trafalgar Square. The ministry banned a planned meeting Aug. 19 of the tiny National Socialist Movement, a British National Party rally Sept. 2 and a rally of the British Union Movement on Sept. 23.

WALL MARKS 1st BIRTHDAY

MONDAY WAS THE FIRST birthday of the "wall of shame" — the barrier erected by the East Germans and their Soviet overlords to prevent the population of the Russian zone of the divided city from escaping into the West. W. Berliners here peer sadly over the wall to the Red-held sector beyond. (See story with photo).

Big Protest Expected On Berlin Wall Rioting

BERLIN (AP) — The Western powers expected strong Soviet protests and new threats today following West Berliners' attacks on the Berlin wall and Russian vehicles during the first anniversary of the barricade.

Rioting crowds hurled paving blocks and curses Monday night at the barricade which was begun a year ago and now divides Berlin with stone, steel, barbed wire and military fortifications.

Reinforced West German police repeatedly drove the wildly screaming demonstrators back from the wall.

The crowds demonstrated continuously, from noon until heavy rain sent them home at 1:30 a.m. West Berlin police estimated that at the peak 10,000 people gathered before the wall, screaming, spitting and throwing paving blocks at the barrier. "We just cannot allow them too near the wall," said one police captain. "They shoot over there, and there are enough dead already."

ATTACK RED CARS

One crowd, frustrated in its attempts to reach the wall, surrounded three Russian Army vehicles nearCheckpoint Charlie in the U.S. sector. The Russian soldiers were returning from guard duty at the Soviet war memorial in West Berlin.

The angry demonstrators hurled stones and beer bottles, smashing the windows of a bus. Youths closed in on two sedans shouting "Pigs" and "Dirty bums." West German police finally freed the Soviet vehicles. At least one demonstrator was arrested.

GIRL'S SLAYER May Have Held Her 2 Days

TORONTO (CP) — The slayer of pretty blonde Julian Wolanski, 16, possibly the person who telephoned her home and sent her out on a rendezvous with death, may have held the girl alive for two days.

Police said today an autopsy revealed the shy Grade 10 student had been dead at least two days, possibly longer, when her body was found Sunday in a ditch in suburban Etobicoke. And it was almost certain her corpse had been hidden at least a day before it was dumped.

Julian left home last Tuesday to meet a male telephone caller who said he was one of her public school teachers.

When Julian was next seen she had been shot through the heart with a .32-calibre gun. Her nearly nude, raped body was battered and bruised.

New Cabinet Crisis In Argentina

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — President Jose Maria Guido's shaky regime wrestled with a new cabinet crisis today. It was also confronted with a U.S. warning that Argentina will lose American aid and recognition if it falls into outright military rule.

Both Sides Accuse Other

GENEVA (AP) — The United States and the Soviet Union accused each other today of seeking to prevent a treaty banning nuclear weapon tests.

U.S. chief negotiator Arthur H. Dean told the 69th session of the 17-nation disarmament talks that his government "can only conclude with regret that the Soviet Union does not now want a workable test ban treaty and is doing all it possibly can to prevent one from being concluded."

Dean expressed disappointment over Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin's complete rejection of modified Western proposals for policing of a test ban agreement. Zorin, who was replaced by First Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov, is leaving Geneva Wednesday.

Kuznetsov said the new Western position is not really new and added:

"The putting forward by the United States of former proposals already rejected in regard to the nature of on-site inspection has no other purpose but to lead the negotiations into a deadlock, thus preventing the achievement of an agreement to stop nuclear tests."

Bennett Hints At Byelection

QUESNEL (CP) — British Columbia will likely have a second byelection before the next session of the legislature in January, Premier Bennett hinted Monday.

The people of Vancouver Point Grey will be fully represented at the next session, he said, indicating a byelection to fill the vacancy created by the death Sunday of Mrs. Buda Brown, minister without portfolio.

Revelstoke constituency will have a byelection Sept. 4 to fill the vacancy created by the death of George Hobbs, CCF-NDP member of the north to attend Mrs. Brown's funeral Wednesday. They are Education Minister Peterson, Health Minister Martin and Attorney-General Bonner.

Space Double Keeps Going

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union's two newest astronauts completed another day of circling the earth today and appeared to be still in orbit in mid-afternoon, the time considered best for a landing attempt.

Moscow's central television station broadcast at 4:10 p.m. (9:10 a.m. EDT) what it claimed was a direct transmission from Vostok III, piloted by Maj. Andrian Nikolayev.

The announcer pointed to a porthole of the Vostok III and said that, through it, it was possible to see Vostok IV, carrying Lt.-Col. Pavel Popovich. He said indications the two space ships, launched a day apart on almost identical orbits, were still close together. Western trackers have said the two ships now are several hundred miles apart after being as close as 75 miles.

Union Aims 'Too High' So Teamsters Walk Out

VICTORIA (CP) — Thirty-five members of Local 885 of the Teamsters Union here, stating that the demands made by the union leadership were causing employers to lose business, have voted themselves out of the union.

Peter Willis, spokesman for the breakaway group, said today the labor relations board has granted cancellation of union certification in the case of the employees involved following a hearing and an employee vote.

Mr. Willis said the decision was made because union demands were causing companies to lose business to the point where they had to lay off employees.

He said attempts by the union to bring Victoria wage levels up to those of Vancouver resulted in companies here having to increase rates they were non-competitive.

The 35 employees decided to pull out of the union when Teamster negotiators rejected a company offer three cents an hour lower than that negotiated with other companies in the area.

BENNETT 'DUMPED'

Holdup Was A Mix-Up

BARKERVILLE (CP) — Premier Bennett and his RCMP escort car barreled through this northern British Columbia community, red light flashing, speed limits ignored.

Red-coated constables dumped the premier at his destination 60 miles away and hurried off to answer, they said, a "holdup call."

Well, not exactly a holdup call. More of a "mix-up," as they explained Monday.

It started when a bus driver, about to leave here for Prince George 80 miles away, couldn't get rid of a drunk.

He telephoned police, but the line was busy.

"Is this an emergency?" asked the operator.

"No," replied the driver, "but I'm being held up."

The operator cut him off at this point, and put out an emergency call on police lines.

The RCMP car was the only one available.

Fulfilling duty and for- saking ceremony, the escort took the call. The drunk spent the night in jail.

Vernon's Two Traffic Lights "Archaic" Contends RCMP

VERNON (Staff) — Vernon's at 30th Avenue and 30th Street, and said chaos could occur if two traffic lights are archaic, as well as blinker lights at other intersections. A major power failure occurred. He also noted there were no stop signs at these intersections other than the traffic lights.

In his report, read to city council, Staff Sgt. F. J. Regan, officer commanding Vernon police detachment said the traffic lights were totally inadequate. He said with the tremendous influx of tourists now in the city, due primarily to the opening of the Rogers Pass section of the Trans-Canada highway, the traffic light situation should be studied immediately.

The two, single centre of the road type traffic lights in Vernon, were the first electrical traffic signals manufactured in this country about 1932. Motorists have long complained they are not visible when driving into the sun.

Meanwhile, city engineer Dave Mackay said some form of manual operation of the lights must be made if a power failure occurs. He was referring to Sunday night when the power failed for about 20 minutes leaving traffic to cope for itself at Highway 97 and Barnard Avenue and

CD Course, Fines $1,195, Fire Loss, Swim Pool

AMBULANCE CALLS

There were 19 ambulance calls during July in the district, city council learned. There were eight in Vernon, two in Coldstream and nine in organized areas for a total of $206 revenue. About $135 is still outstanding from this amount.

COURT OF REVISION

A court of revision for assessments has been set for Feb. 1 in Vernon and approved by city council. Feb. 4 was suggested for Coldstream for a court sitting by the provincial government and Feb. 5 for Lumby.

Camp Classes Planned

VERNON (Staff) — Vernon Military Camp officers advised today that school instruction for army personnel and civilians planning to take supplementary exams will be offered here.

Many cadets and some civilian personnel hired for the summer must write school supplements, the army explains, and instructors now on the base will hold special instruction classes immediately.

POLICE REPORT

Fines levied in police court during July totalled $1,195 to the city, an RCMP report stated last night. There were six traffic violations and 28 parking violations for the month; 81 cases were investigated and six business premises were found unlicensed. The liquor situation was "good," the report stated. Mused Mayor Cousins: "I'm never quite sure whether the report means the brand of liquor used is good on these cases."

CIVIL DEFENCE COURSE

Expenses will be paid to authorized delegates only at the forthcoming Civil Defence conference in Kamloops, Sept. 15. It is expected local defence officer H. L. Norman will attend.

FIRE LOSS

Three fires were reported in the area for the year to date for a total loss of $4,060.

SANITARY CONDITIONS

Following complaints of sanitary conditions at Kin Beach restaurants this week, Parks Committee Chairman Ald. Michael Lemski said the situation has been corrected. He noted there were minor acts of vandalism.

SWIMMING POOL?

Mayor Cousins told Ald. Lemski his parks committee should study the possibility of a new swimming pool in Polson Park for the future. He was commenting on the thousands of tourists taking advantage of the park for picnics during the hot weather.

STREET CLEANING

Flushing and street cleaning crews are having a tough time due to the hordes of parked vehicles on main streets, city engineer MacKay noted. He said certain modifications would have to be made while tourist cars were left on the streets. He expected the situation to return to "normal" within three weeks.

Capital Flows Out Quicker

OTTAWA (CP) — A capital outflow of $120,000,000 on trade in outstanding Canadian and foreign securities during the first half of 1962 was reported today by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

In the corresponding period of 1961, there was an inflow of $115,000,000.

The outflow this year included $27,000,000 to the United States, $44,000,000 to Britain, and $49,000,000 to other overseas countries.

Store Sales Show Rise

OTTAWA (CP) — Department store sales in June were valued at $119,891,000, an increase of 1.3 per cent from $118,362,000 at the same time last year, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported today.

Sales in the January-June period were up 3.4 per cent to $600,147,000 from $580,919,000 in the same 1961 period.

Total freight cleared through Canadian canals in May reached 9,032,131, 15.5 per cent more than in May last year and 11.0 per cent more than the record of 8,074,933 tons in October, 1961.

Sawmills in provinces east of the Rockies produced 339,630,000 board feet of lumber in June compared with 319,813,000 in the same month last year.

GUES MOTHER-IN-LAW
NEW YORK (AP) — Leslie B. Morrisett of Greenwich, Conn., claims his mother-in-law helped break up his marriage of 28 years, and he's suing her for $500,000 damages. In the suit filed in federal court Monday, Morrisett said Mrs. Clover Boldt Johanson of New York persuaded her daughter to leave him.

VERNON VOTERS LIST PLANS

Preparation for the 1962 municipal voters list will get under way here next month, city clerk Ian Garven told councillors last night.

Resident owners and resident tenants on the 1961 list must confirm they are still eligible for the new list.

Tenants not on the 1961 list but qualified for the 1962 list must make a declaration at city hall.

Staff Increases Aid Employment

OTTAWA (CP) — Staff increases in most major industrial divisions produced a 3.7 per cent rise in the composite index of employment for May, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported today.

The index, based on 1949 employment equalling 100, rose to 121 from 116.7 in the preceding month.

Seasonal adjustment of the monthly differential made the May index of 121 three-tenths of one per cent higher than the previous month as a result of greater-than-seasonal gains in manufacturing.

The industrial composite of average weekly wages and salaries rose 55 cents to $20.76 in the month. This was $2.76 more than in May, 1961.

REFUSED PAY HIKE

JAKARTA (AP) — The Indonesian government told its civil servants Monday it will not raise their salaries despite the increased cost of living. In a letter to the Civil Servants Union, which had complained that salaries are not keeping pace with prices, the ministry of general administration said pay boosts would only push prices higher.

Districts To Raise Hospital Cash Themselves

BARKERVILLE (CP) — The B.C. government Monday decided to let hospital improvement districts raise their own money for hospital construction.

Hospital improvement districts are formed in unorganized areas. When a new hospital or a hospital addition is required, the government pays 50 per cent of the cost, the federal government 12 per cent and the district raises the rest.

In the past, the government, after hospital plans had been approved, has advanced the improvement area's share of the money. The government then received the money back through a special taxation.

The cabinet, here on one of its periodic out-of-the-capital meetings, has decided that the districts now should raise their own money through their own bond issue.

Premier Bennett said in an interview that, if necessary, the government would guarantee a bond issue with interest not exceeding 5 1/2 per cent.

Radioactivity Reported High

TOKYO (AP) — The central meteorological agency said today it has detected this year's highest amount of radioactivity, believed scattered by a Russian nuclear blast early this month.

It said 76 micro-microcuries of radioactivity in each cubic meter of dust were measured in Osaka last Friday.

This compared to the previous high of 24 micro-microcuries recorded in Fukuoka, northern Kyushu Island, last Jan. 8. But it was far less than the 278 micro-microcuries detected in Osaka last Nov. 8 shortly after Russia exploded a 50-megaton nuclear bomb.

Federal Inquiry Begins On Waterfront Violence

TORONTO (CP) — A federal inquiry opens here today into a tangled web of international and shipping disruptions woven around the militant struggle of two rival trade unions for the loyalty of Great Lakes seamen.

Headed by Mr. Justice T. G. Norris of Vancouver, the industrial inquiry is expected to throw new light into the semi-darkness shrouding the tough, turbulent world of lake shipping and the unions that represent the men who sail lak ships, man lake docks and run the seaway locks.

"Build A Fort Knox In B.C." Says Gold-Booster Bennett

BARKERVILLE, B.C. (CP) — British Columbia Premier W. A. C. Bennett said Monday Canada should build up its gold reserves through a federal subsidy and establish its own Fort Knox.

The build-up should be made through a subsidy raising gold prices to $50 an ounce, $15 higher than the world price set by the U.S., he said in a speech at this B.C. interior gold rush capital.

The move would enable Canada to stabilize its world trade, bolster its economy and pay off international deficits when there is pressure on the Canadian dollar, said the Social Credit premier, making a tour of the B.C. interior.

He said the gold should be kept in the mint in Ottawa, just as the U.S. stores its gold reserves at Fort Knox.

It isn't a question of using gold for international payments, he said in an interview later. It would simply be used as a reserve to strengthen world confidence in Canada.

STRESSES IMPORTANCE

He said few people understand the importance of gold in Canada's economy.

B.C. Man Dies After Crash

KITIMAT (CP) — Allan D. (Bill) Vance of Prince Rupert, unsuccessful Progressive Conservative candidate in Skeena in the June 18 federal election, died in hospital Sunday from injuries suffered in an auto accident.

At the heart of the matter is the mortal feud between the Seafarers International Union of Canada, headed by American-born Hal C. Banks, and the Canadian Maritime Union, led by ex-SIU organizer Michael Sheehan and backed openly by the Canadian Labor Congress.

This fight, brewing for months, boiled over in April, leading to violence, threats and intimidation against ships and seamen who broke away from the SIU to join the CMU.

VESSELS STALLED

There was a harassment against CMU-manned ships and American lake ports—a series of picket lines that stalled vessels for weeks and led to a retaliatory boycott against SIU-manned ships in the St. Lawrence Seaway and Welland Canal.

The seaway boycott resulted in federal government action to launch the Norris inquiry.

The roots of the dispute go back more than a decade—to 1949 when Hal Banks and the SIU were invited to Canada to settle the Communist-dominated Canadian Seamen's Union in one of the bloodiest union battles in Canadian labor history.

For years, the SIU was in the mainstream of organized labor in Canada, a rough, tough but generally accepted member of the CLC, the 1,070,000-member central federation of trade unions in this country.

Then in the summer of 1953, the SIU stepped from its traditional jurisdiction over unionized seamen into the field of marine engineers—a move that led to the current lakefront conflict and the federal investigation.

Critics of the provincial government might be concerned about B.C.'s financial status but they can be assured that the premier will be solvent for a few days, quipped Mr. Bennett.

OVTA Blasts Revelstoke Hostelries

Officials of the Okanagan Valley Tourist Association are highly disturbed by reports from Alberta people that certain Revelstoke hotel and motel operators are gouging visitors en route to the Valley.

OVTA Secretary Fred Heatley reported this morning that an Edmonton woman said she had been charged $12.00 per night by a hotel in Revelstoke and that payment had to be made in advance.

The association has spent upwards of $2,000 in newspaper advertising in Calgary and Edmonton in order to lure people to these areas to the Okanagan Valley and officers are incensed that visitors should be preyed upon by unscrupulous operators in the Revelstoke area.

Revelstoke stands to benefit greatly from motorists passing over the newly-opened Rogers Pass providing, according to OVTA spokesmen, "they treat the people fairly and do not resort to gouging tactics."

Traffic Officer Hands Out 198 'Nice' Tickets

Courtesy was the keyword for special traffic officer Ian Collinson last month.

In his monthly report, Mr. Collinson said he gave out 198 courtesy parking tickets to motorists. He said 32 per cent went on Alberta cars, 38 to B.C. cars, 9 1/2 per cent to Washington cars, 7 1/2 per cent to Saskatchewan cars and the balance to everywhere else. Mr. Collinson said in his rounds he noted cars from nearly every state in the union and all but one province. There were 296 over-parking and illegal parking fines collected for a total revenue of $750; 23 left-urns for $165 in fines; three failing to stop at a light for $30 and one failing to yield the right of way for $10 for a grand total of $945.

Delegates Chosen To Attend UBCM

Council decided last night on its voting delegates to the annual Union of British Columbia Municipalities convention in Kamloops next month.

Dates of the convention are Sept. 12, 13 and 14. Attending will be Mayor Parkinson, Ald. Dennis Crookes, Ald. Arthur Jackson, Ald. C. M. Lipsett, Ald. E. R. Winter and city clerk James Hudson. Also attending will be city staff member Bernard Jean who will attend the Public Works Association's annual convention in Kamloops Sept. 26-28. Council authorized sending Mr. Jean last night.

Aquatic Busy-Brow Lauded

Ald. Jack Treadgold commended Aquatic manager Jack Brow Monday night for his work this summer.

In his report to council, Mr. Brow said there were 1,130 men and women, boys and girls, using the pool's facilities with 645 boys and girls alone in the beginners, intermediate and advanced swim classes.

The alderman said only a few years back, there were half that many enrolled. Taking Red Cross water safety lessons were 330, 43 in diving, 38 in adult classes, 50 in gym classes and 30 learning to handle a war canoe which Kelowna excelled in during the Regatta by beating out Vernon in a thrilling race.

In the Parks and Recreation division under Mrs. Hellevi Cooper there are 200 registered with three leaders and Bill Johnson teaching arts and crafts. At a recent Gyro Park fun day, Mr. Brow reported the kids ate 300 wieners and buns and consumed 15 gallons of juice.

No Comment On Crime Situation

RCMP Staff Sgt. R. B. McKay made no comment on the July crime picture when he presented his monthly report Monday night.

There were 11 traffic convictions, 276 parking, 23 warnings issued and two dismissed, one by-law was prosecuted. Police received 270 complaints, attended six fires, recovered nine of 13 articles which were reported lost. There were reports of 10 bicycles stolen and 24 recovered.

In revenue, $990 was collected in prosecution on municipal by-laws and $1,885 in municipal fines. Costs collected were $265 and the RCMP logged 4,431 miles in their rounds.

CENTRE OF CONTROVERSY

Westbank Aquatic Park Starting to Take Shape

The "blitz" conducted this summer for development of Westbank's Aquatic park and sponsored by the Recreation Commission totalled to date of last week's meeting, $250.60, was revealed in the report given at the August meeting of the Recreation Commission.

Itemized spending of these funds was as follows: construction of six sturdy picnic tables by Bob Scriver, $42; pile-driving, $30 and labor, $74. The balance of approximately $84 will go toward stringers and plank for the pier, for which the piles were driven earlier.

MANY GAVE ASSISTANCE Special thanks for material, donations of work and equipment was voiced to: Gorman

New Knox Mountain Road Will Prove Asset Here

Council last night was rapturous over the new Knox Mountain Road.

Recent road construction, although far from completed, has made the trip to the scenic plateau possible and passable, Mayor Parkinson said. He and fellow councillors took the climb to the top earlier this week.

"It's in good condition and there's a good grade considering it's been hacked out of the mountain. When the graveling is done, it will be a wonderful asset to the city," the mayor said, adding the road work was the first stage in development of the mountain as a park.

BIG ATTRACTION Ald. Arthur Jackson said it's going to be one of the area's "premier attractions". He suggested asking for Dept. of Lands and Forests co-operation in planting a tree farm.

"It has terrific potential and is equal in scenic view to Mount Revelstoke except, of course, for the snow caps," he said. City engineer said he had no objection to travellers using the road although at their own risk since there are no posts or guard rails.

He said one of the reasons there has been a barricade at that the road is so dusty it blankets tents in the adjacent camp. Council suggested a sign be put up telling drivers the road is still sub-grade.

LOTS OF BOATS A total of 152 boats were counted at one time of Lake Okanagan between the area from the foot of KLO road to Poplar Point on the Regatta weekend at Saturday. Docking facilities were crowded throughout the week as local boatmen and visitors took advantage of the perfect weather and the Regatta action.

CITY COUNCIL BRIEFS

Mayor Praises Regatta Group

Mayor R. F. Parkinson extended his heartfelt thanks to Regatta Committee chairman Len Lenthley and his committee members following the 56th annual water show.

At council Monday he said, "I wish to extend my congratulations to the committee and to all those who don't get their names on the programs."

He said this year's calibre of swim competitors was excellent with three times as many from prairie and other points. "There is no sign of less enthusiasm in this community project, the one which gives Kelowna its best publicity. It is a healthy organization," he concluded.

Here is other brief council

RETARDED GRANT

Kelowna and District Retarded Children's Association was awarded a grant of $376 for its 1962 operation of Sunnyvale school. A two-thirds majority vote was required at last night's Kelowna City Council meeting.

CAPRI MERCHANTS

A meeting with the Capri Merchants Associations to discuss several issues was postponed until next week, council agreed.

REDLICH'S FOND

MOH Dr. David Clarke and city engineer Ted Lawrence have been asked to investigate both health and possibility of filling the Redlich's pond

MUSIC DATE

Okanagan Music Festival Association has set the date of its 1963 music program as April 1-6. The group has asked to use the civic auditorium for its festival and will negotiate with the new Parks and Recreation Commission on rates and so on.

PLUMBING COSTLY

Kenyon and Company's police building tender of $102,100 was upped $331.51 with council approval last night. The increase is due to the introduction of 10 per cent per annum surcharge on aluminum plumbing fixtures, the company advised the city.

Youth Given Jail Term For Theft Of Vehicle

A juvenile transferred to adult court this morning was handed a 12 months definite jail term with a six months indefinite term following theft of a car Saturday night.

Magistrate D. M. White sentenced Thomas Harasin of Kelowna to the term after he pleaded guilty to taking a late model vehicle from behind Bennett's Stores Ltd. He was arrested following an RCMP chase through city streets. There was no damage to the car. The youth was on suspended sentence at the time of his arrest.

DISPAIRED

Theodore Derickson of Westbank was found guilty of impaired driving in a Monday afternoon hearing where he pleaded not guilty to the charge. Fine was $100 and costs. He was defended by Ross Sutherland. Appearing for the crown was Ross Lander.

TRAFFIC COURT

Harvey Lesko of Rutland was fined $25 and costs for an over-weight load on his vehicle, in traffic court today.

BAIL SET $5,000 ON RAPE CHARGE

One of the two young men charged with the rape of a 15-year-old girl in the late hours of Aug. 9 or early hours of Aug. 10 in Kelowna, has been released on bail.

George Peter Boychuk, 20, of Kelowna, was released yesterday by Magistrate D. White on $5,000 bail, two sureties of $2,500 each.

Stanley J. Brian Cocks, 19, a soldier on leave from Camp Gagetown, N.B., who is jointly charged with Boychuk, is still in custody.

COUNCIL WILL URGE CITY RCMP TO SILENCE LATE-NIGHT RACKET

RCMP will be asked to clamp down on after-hours racket.

Ald. Jack Treadgold said the anti-noise bylaw is being abused. The bylaw provides for peace and quiet between the hours of 11 p.m. and 7 a.m.

He said on streets such as Vimy Ave., Royal Ave. and Burne Ave. there've been complaints of people sleeping in cars, drinking, swearing and "doing things they shouldn't." "It's not just last week during Regatta; this has been going on for a long time; perhaps the police can make more spot checks," said the alderman.

Ald. Dennis Crookes said parking was another area for discussion. He said in his travels he noticed three cars parked the wrong end forward on one of the city streets and an RCMP cruiser which passed right by without stopping.

Mayor R. F. Parkinson said he would discuss the matter with the RCMP and a letter forwarded to ask for their help.

Controversial Fence In Hands Of Manager

The fence around the Kelowna Machine Shop's St. Paul St. property has been left to manager Harold Armeaneau and city building inspector W. L. Conn.

Alderman Art Jackson said at council a special committee looking into grievances by local residents about the proposed fence was unable to come to any agreement.

A recent letter to the city from Mr. Armeaneau said an original plan for barbed wire topped on the fence had to be scrapped because of its potential danger to workers. He said the current plan was to install a rack-type fence higher than eight feet.

Residents in the area also complained about the hazard of welding sparks from the property but Fire Chief Charles Pettman in a report to council pointed out no welding is being done since it is warehouse property.

However, the chief suggested if any cutting was to be done the fire hazard was as high and suggested any such operation be carried on in the centre of the area.

DOT Approves Airport Costs City Council gratefully received word from the Department of Transport that an $11,000 operating subsidy for 1961 airport costs had been approved.

Of the total, $4,000 was towards crash fire rescue equipment, an area the city's aviation committee has spent considerable time trying to improve.

Council earlier had made application for the financial aid.

FIRE DAMAGE

Fire damage to city property in July amounted to $5,000, Chief Charles Pettman reported to council. There were 18 calls, 16 silent alarms, one false and one general. The ambulance was sent out on 47 calls, 23 in the Kelowna area and three in the Okanagan Mission for a cost of $348.50. Council also approved the hiring of a new fireman, John L. Johnson, as of August 15.

COURTS OF REVISION

A court of revision session required under the Assessment Equalization Act will be held at 10 a.m. Feb. 1 in Kelowna city hall and in Peachland municipal hall Feb. 4 at 10 a.m.

Council Moves To Demolish First Post Office Here

"Historically it's worth a million; actually it's not worth a nickel."

This is the opinion of J. Percy Clement, Kelowna historian, in a bid to save Kelowna's oldest known building to be demolished by City Council order today or tomorrow.

A clapboard and plaster structure originally built on Abbot St. and Bernard Avenue in 1892 by real estate man Thomas Spence, it was used as the city's first post office. Subsequently sold to Caldwell Blackwood it was moved to its present location on the Water Street, Lawrence Avenue property. Recently known as the Chapman property, it was sold to the city for a downtown parking lot. Mr. Clement who came to Kelowna with his parents in 1893 and subsequently opened the first stationery store here is the most authoritative historian of Kelowna's early days.

Visiting from his home in Victoria this past week, he deprecates the destruction of the old building and feels it would be a tragedy to break such a link with the past.

TAKE AWAY FREE

He outlined the history of the building in a letter to City Council Monday night and suggested its preservation. A city house-moving firm has offered to cart it free to any suitable spot in the city providing one can be found.

Council members on the whole didn't agree, although Ald. Jackson suggested contacting the historical group which preserved the Father Pandosy Mission site.

Mayor R. F. Parkinson said he didn't feel the building had any real historical significance and Ald. Jack Treadgold pointed out it was in really poor shape.

Tear Down Immediately

By official motion, Ald. C. M. Lipsett seconded Ald. Treadgold's suggestion to tear the old house down immediately.

Earlier in the day, in a Daily Courier interview Mr. Clement, who with H. C. S. Collett of Okanagan Mission are the only living members of the first Kelowna Board of Trade mainly responsible for the city's incorporation, pool-pooled an opinion on the old building was the city's first hospital.

He said its significance rested on the fact it was the oldest dwelling left and the first post office.

According to the historian, in 1892, there was no post office for citizens. They had to travel to Okanagan Mission although three-quarters of the mail was for the town. After some agitation, Spence was appointed postmaster and he re-ramped his building to make room for postal service.

When he left Kelowna, he sold it to Cal Blackwood who moved it and subsequently built a livery stable. The Blackwoods lived in the house and Mrs. Blackwood catered to a few search.

roomers. Two or three of these came down with typhoid fever and were nursed back to health by Dr. Boyce and Mrs. Blackwood.

An exacting man for correct dates, Mr. Clement has written detailed historical accounts for the Courier and the Okanagan Historical Society.

One of the few remaining "old guard," he said yesterday, "I feel like the Ancient Mariner," but he is continuing his study of the history of the area.

He left Kelowna in 1907 where he went to Vancouver for 45 years before retiring from the Stationery business in 1952.

Latest project is an intensive study of early water transportation on the Lake prior to the coming of the white man clear through to 1962.

He plans to spend this next winter digging through the Provincial Museum archives and files where much of the records are kept but said Monday he finds the old newspapers the most valuable and accurate source of supply for his research.

Three accidents were reported to police yesterday, all having taken place in the evening between 7:30 p.m. and 8:50 p.m. in widely scattered areas of the Kelowna district.

A motorist reported to police he had been in collision with an eight-year-old boy on a bicycle at Harvey and Pandosy at about 7:30 last night.

The boy, knocked to the pavement, apparently received only minor injuries and was able to proceed on his way following the spill.

Damage was estimated at only $100 and no one was hurt in a two-car collision on Highway 97 two miles south of Kelowna at 8:40 last night.

The collision occurred when a car being driven north by Agnes Clark of Truswell road, Kelowna, attempted to make a left turn as a second vehicle driven by William Davidson of Edmonton, attempted to pass.

Second crash was a chain reaction one on Highway 97 four miles south of Okanagan Bridge near Westbank.

Fruit boxes fell off a truck

Tax Payments Hit $446,334

Tax payments as of July 31 total $446,334 as compared to $411,358 for the corresponding period last year, City Hall reported.

There have been 1,439 trade licences issued so far as compared to 1,384 and in revenue, mean $31,197 collected as compared to $40,676 in 1961.

Professional licences, issued total 110 for $2,200 in revenue as compared to 108 for a total of $2,100.

Male dog tags issued are 469 for a total of $2,380 as compared to 403 last year for a total of $1,221. Tags for 12 female dogs have been brought in $120 as compared to six in 1961 for $60.

TROPHY ON DISPLAY

The beautiful trophy won by the Kelowna float in this month's Penitence Peach Festival for the Best Community float entry will have a place of honor in city hall, either in the mayor's office or on public display in the business office.

Berlin Wall: Monument To Oppression, Slavery

The first anniversary of the Berlin wall was on Monday marked by a sharp skirmish between border guards. It was the most serious border clash in a year.

It was just a year ago that the Soviet Zone regime erected a wall sealing off the Soviet sector of Berlin from the three Western sectors. The purpose of the wall was to stop the flight of Germans from the Soviet Zone to the Western sectors. Despite the fact that they now do so at the risk of their lives, over 11,200 have fled from the Soviet Zone in the past year. More than 100 people have been killed or seriously injured while trying to reach West Berlin.

Under the Communist puppet regime in the Soviet Zone, there is no freedom of expression. But the heavy flow of refugees from the zone shows clearly to all the world how strongly the population opposes the Soviet regime and how great has been the failure of that regime to establish acceptable political, economic and social conditions.

In July 1961, the number of persons fleeing reached 30,444, the highest since March, 1953. In August, 1961, until the wall was put up on the 13th more than 1,000 persons a day were leaving the Soviet Zone and on the 13th, the official total was 2,400.

When the wall was put up it was feared by some Western officials that it would affect West Berlin adversely—psychologically and economically. There was apprehension that the Communists had reached one of their objectives again by brute force.

The will to resist, however, has only been stiffened by the Soviet action. The attention of the world has not turned away from Berlin. On the contrary, the escape or murder of a single person who flees to the West, curiously enough, is given more publicity than was received by the more than three million people who came over in the decade and a half preceding the erection of the wall.

Economically speaking, West Berlin has even prospered though its work forces was decimated by the erection of the wall. In November last year, three months later, it was already evident that industrial investment had increased by $45 million. West Berliners worked overtime and workers came in from West German areas to replace those who were walled up in East Berlin.

Tales without number have accumulated about citizens of the Soviet Zone who have managed to escape although their loyalty to the Soviet regime was considered tested and proven. A special internment camp had to be established for members of the "People's Army" and the Border Police who had attempted to leave and were caught. The number of men who escaped in the past year would make up five companies of the People's Army and Border Police. The most recent incident concerns the fiasco of the East German delegation sent to the Communist World Youth Festival in Helsinki. Thirty-seven members of the delegation plus the crew of the ship taking them to Helsinki, defected and escaped to the West.

The wall is testimonial to the bankruptcy of the communist idea in Central and Germany. It is a monument to the defeat of communism which is there for all to see as a symbol of oppression and slavery.

sity is applied and people say as long as farmers and private bodies, such as pensions to veterans, and others is granted, why not get in on the gravy. The idea spreads and the governments encourage it, by use of demagoguery. They ignore Macaulay's words of doom, even if they ever heard of it.

He warned: "When a society has entered on this downward progress, either civilization or liberty must perish. Either some Caesar or Napoleon will seize the reins of government with a strong hand, or your democracy will be fearfully plundered and laid waste by barbarians in the 20th century as was the Roman Empire in the fifth— with this difference, that the Huns and vandals who ravaged the Roman Empire came from without, and that your Huns and vandals have been engendered within your own country."—Guelph Mercury.

ROYAL ART COLLECTION ON VIEW

The world's greatest private art collection belongs to Queen Elizabeth II, and for the first time, some of the priceless treasures not normally seen by the public, will appear in the new Queen's Gallery, built on the site of the private chapel at Buckingham Palace, bombed during World War II. The gallery will be open to the public with a 2/6d charge per head to pay for its upkeep. Among art seen in this photo are several famous pieces never before on public view. It was the Queen's idea that the gallery should be opened, especially to show to advantage the thousands of gifts she has received on her travels overseas. — (British Information Photo)

Promise In Golden Flood Cheers Prairie Farmers

(Editors note: Harold Longman, provincial editor of the Regina Leader-Post, who toured drought-stricken southeastern Saskatchewan a year ago, has just paid a return visit to the area. In the following article he describes how conditions have changed.)

ESTEVAN, Sask. (CP) — Farmer Leroy Carlson eased his laboring combine to a halt, pulled a lever and released a torrent of golden grain into a waiting truck.

As he did so a second combine topped a rise, slowly chewing its way through the deep, tangled swath of his rye field, harvesting part of what may be the best crop ever grown in southeastern Saskatchewan. His grin was as wide as the west as he jumped down from the big, red machine and said, "Not much like last year, is it?"

I knew what he meant. A year ago I stood in this same field, part of Carlson's nine-section grain farm north of Estevan, and heard him admit defeat in his annual battle with nature.

Then only scattered six-inch spears of oats covered the parched ground, split by wide cracks. In a year when less rain fell than in the worst days of the Dirty Thirties, drought and grasshoppers had cost him the year.

He had 1,000 acres in crop and it barely returned his seed. One quarter section yielded only 30 bushels of wheat. On every hand the fields were parched and brown and roadside weeds were dying of thirst.

He needed only one combine last year to harvest his crop and picking up the short, thin swath was almost impossible. He now has a different problem. The two growing harvesters crawled along in low gear in order to handle the great bulk of swath that lay in their paths. The operators stopped often to clear the machines. Twice in two hours the combines plugged in spite of careful handling.

But these were minor annoyances for Mr. Carlson and his son Jimmy, as they watched the golden flood pour from the grain spout. The field was yielding about 35 bushels to the acre and the sample was good.

Mr. Carlson has 1,100 acres in crops this year, a mixture of coarse grains, wheat and rye. "It should be as good as any crop we've had, at least since 1942 when I started farming here," he said.

He estimated that his wheat would run about 25 to 30 bushels an acre, oats about 50 and barley in the 40 to 45-bushel range.

"Isn't it amazing," he said, "wonder in his voice and in his eyes, as he surveyed his land. Nearby, in a corner of the field, missed by the swathe, the rye stood six feet tall. Wheat stood higher than a tall man's waist, bright gold in the hot August sun."

"Experience counts," he said, "in this country." He said, "After last year when there was nothing here, and with no reserve moisture last fall, who would ever expect a crop like this?"

Mr. Carlson will fare better than some of his neighbors. He sowed his crop early and early crops are showing a better sample.

TO YOUR GOOD HEALTH

Snoring Is Boring

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: My husband was operated on for deviated septum of the nose. He had it done mainly to stop his snoring and the doctor said it would, but it didn't.

I am a very light sleeper and haven't had a good night's rest for so long I can't remember. When I do sleep it's because I take a pill, and I don't want to do that all the time.

Is there anything you can suggest?—MRS. F.H.

I'm never very happy about answers on snoring because, frankly, there are only limited things that I or any doctor can do about it.

Snoring is a fluttering of the soft tissues of the throat as they relax and the breath gives them noisy movement.

Since these soft tissues change position slightly as we relax into sleep, there is no way for a doctor to see them as they are under snoring conditions. And even then it might or might not be helpful.

You know how, at times, the weather stripping around a door or window will whistle when a hard wind is blowing? It's the same sort of thing—if you can't find the exact bit of metal which flutters, you can't tighten it up and stop the noise. But there isn't any very good way of finding the exact spot.

You can, of course, just replace the weather stripping. But you can't just replace your husband's breathing apparatus.

Most doctors I know are much too smart to promise that any operation or other procedure will cure snoring. Removal of obstructions (deviated septum, polyps, sometimes tonsils, or any other factor) will, indeed, often reduce or stop snoring but promising absolutely that it will work is unwarranted. I've noticed that most doctors carefully qualify what they say: "It may probably help."

Beyond that, the "snoring problem" depends on two factors: not just one; the loudness of the snore, and the sensitivity of the listener's reception. The army has proved that a lot of weary men can sleep through a lot of snoring.

Therefore, once throat and nose passages have been cleared of obvious obstructions, my suggestions are these:

Some people find that sleeping on their back seems to encourage snoring, so learning to sleep on the side, or even such Spartan procedures as fastening a rubber ball to the back (to prevent lying on the back) may help.

Changing pillow height, or even sleeping without a pillow, may prevent or modify the snore.

Some swear by a chin strap, a simple harness to keep the mouth from dropping open.

Ear plugs for the listener, or even simple wads of cotton, often mute the racket enough to permit sleep. And that's the whole object, isn't it?

Dear Dr. Molner: I like hot baths. They relieve aches and pains. But a friend, after taking whirlpool baths at a clinic, tells me a person should never bathe in warmer than tepid water because the skin acts as a sponge and swelling results. Could you clarify this for me?—M.B.

It's another old fable. You've never swelled up, have you? Just don't burn yourself.

Dear Dr. Molner: I had a baby six years ago but have not been able to get pregnant since. The doctor says I have too much acid to conceive, and that it kills the sperm before it reaches the egg. Can anything be done?—MRS. G.L.

Occasionally, a douche with a weak solution of baking soda may temporarily overcome acidity.

OTTAWA REPORT

Our Patio Politics

By PATRICK NICHOLSON

From our garden province in the east, to that other mellowed pretty island off our Pacific coast, Canadian homes all share one thing: that combination utility-room play-room and rummup-room of the outdoors which we call our backyard.

By 9:30 every Monday morning, our backyards make up a 3,000 mile line of fresh washed clothes. On these hot midsummer afternoons, swings and sandboxes and plastic pools convert them into children's playgrounds.

Here in Ottawa a token row of tomato plants and maybe a bed of pansies nurtured with slaughterhouse blood give lip-service to the customs of our pioneer days before vegetables came from grocerias.

But perhaps more significantly in Ottawa than in all those other backyards, the group of garden chairs converts the secluded terrace into a private evening parliament. There the affairs of the nation are enthusiastically and imaginatively debated to and fro by politicians, diplomats, civil servants and the great miscellany of residents and visitors whose interests centre around Parliament Hill.

NEW FRONTIER HEADACHE In this meteorologically disturbed summer, other disturbances have given such discussions a new intensity. Even normally attentive hosts allow glasses to remain unrefilled for long periods, while guests similarly preoccupied by the conversation quite disregard this oversight.

For Ottawa has become acutely conscious of a strange malaise which is already sweeping most of the free countries which are our western allies.

In Britain Prime Minister Macmillan has had to hack his cabinet to pieces in a purge of which he will assuredly become the final victim. In U.S.A., President Kennedy, while as yet maintaining his minimum popularity above the depths polled by Macmillan, sees his policies massacred by a nominally friendly Congress. In West Germany, discontented voters are clamoring for the retirement of their aged one-time idol. And in France the president, whose very name symbolizes his predestined eminence, has long seen his glory shadowed by the threat of a militant overthrow.

Britain slumped into an economic crisis last year, with emergency taxes, a "pay pause" to halt increases, and foreign exchange curbs. U.S.A. is poised at the top of a slippery slope marked "recession," while her dollar has been under fire as long and almost as strongly as ours.

Canada offers parallels to these pictures.

WEST NEEDS LEADERS

Yet while our statesmen proclaim the strength of our alliance and our urgent need for interdependence, they are compelled by domestic political crises to slit each others' throats as soon as the applause dies down. To wit, on July 4, Kennedy called for a great Western togetherness with expanded trade; the following week his high resolve was splintered by the pressure of U.S. lumbermen protesting against the expansion of Canada's lumber trade.

To one man only, this is all welcome. In the faraway Kremlin, Nikita Khrushchev sees the gradual fulfillment of his wild and unlikely prediction that the powerful western countries would contrive their own collapse.

Despite our great Western advantages, our long start, our immense resources of material and brains, our huge lead in major economic indices, we of the West are now wallowing like an elephant which has suddenly come upon an uphill glacier, while our foe streaks ahead like a young gazelle on a well-prepared cinder track.

The people of Canada, Ottawa's private evening parliaments concede, are aware of our troubles, aware of our sins of commission and omission over 16 post-war years. By their votes in June, the people of Canada told Conservatives and Liberals to go back to the drawing board to create new platforms. They are hungry for bold creative leadership, such as the Sixties now demand. Any political party which awakes to this need will sweep the country in the next election.

REPORT FROM THE U.K.

City Children On Happy Holiday

By M. MONTYEE HOOD
Special London (Eng.) Correspondent
For The Daily Courier

LONDON — There were happy scenes at Paddington and other London railway stations as over 1,000 children, just relieved from school for the summer vacation, started off on what many of them first ever holiday outside of London. Happiness was written all over their laughing faces as Operation Fresh Air got under way, and the trainloads of children headed for the open spaces of the country.

Leaving on this two-week holiday trip were children from the most grimy and dingy of London's streets. They were the most important passengers of the day. For the next two weeks they will be breathing the good country air of the West Country of England and Wales instead of the fumes and grime of London in the smoke. They were going to place where they would be enjoying rich farm food—eggs straight from the nest, milk straight from the cows and fruit direct from the trees and bushes.

Instead of playing in the alleys and lanes of Fulham and Stepney and Walworth, they will be exploring green fields and purple moors.

PROVIDED BY FUND

These children, over 1,000 of them, are enjoying this two weeks' country holiday at no expense to themselves and their parents. Aged from five to 12, most of them were going on the first real holiday of their lives. And this was made possible by the Children's Holidays Fund, which dug deeply into its money bags to provide happiness for these children.

Lady Susan Hussey, chairman of the appeals committee of the fund, finds the task of raising the money to provide these children with country holidays a rewarding one. She says: "Many of these children would never have a holiday if it were not for the fund. This is one job which the Welfare State does not undertake, and in which gifts from private individuals are the only means of raising money."

Mrs. Bessie Bradcock, Labor M.P. from Liverpool, was at Paddington station to wave goodbye to the excited youngsters as they left for the west. She found one fair-haired Fulham girl sobbing bitterly as she clutched a yellow teddy bear. "She's crying because she's so happy," explained her nine-year-old "big sister".

One wide-eyed young girl from North Kensington said she had been in the country before. She had been to Southend on a trip for a day. This time she was going a little further—to the green valleys of Wales.

A six-year-old Hamersmith boy clutched some comic books and said: "When I get to Gloucester I'll be able to climb the trees. I can't do it at home. They won't let you."

Another group, the Invalid Children's Aid Association, is providing seaside holidays in Sussex by the sea. These children, some of them confined to wheelchairs, come from London, Birmingham, Staffordshire, Norfolk, Hampshire and Somerset. Many of them need nursing care.

The association needed 15 nurses, health visitors and teachers to staff the two holiday homes at which these children are staying.

Since Feld became executive head of the committee, the staff has processed 2,306 complaints by Negroes that they have been the victims of discrimination. About half of the complaints originated in the south.

In the seven preceding years under former vice-president Nixon's chairmanship, the committee handled 2,935 complaints.

Troutman, a member of the president's committee, calls his voluntary program the "plan for progress."

Report On Negro Jobs Seen As Political Dynamite For JFK

WASHINGTON (AP) — A still secret report by a labor lawyer proposes a top level shakeup of President Kennedy's committee on equal job rights for Negroes, a well-placed government source said today.

As outlined by the government source, the proposed reorganization may well turn out to be political dynamite for the Kennedy administration among Negro voters.

The report was prepared by Theodore Kheel of New York at the request of Labor Secretary Arthur Goldberg.

It advises, the source said, that the government emphasize voluntary rather than compulsory compliance with Kennedy's anti-discrimination employment order for contractors doing business with it.

John Felt, executive director of the president's committee on equal employment opportunity, has told his staff that if the plan is carried through, he will resign.

Feld is known through the government as a strong advocate of enforcing the president's anti-discrimination order.

SETS UP SEPARATE PLAN Robert Troutman Jr., of Atlanta, Ga., a friend of Kennedy and also a close friend of Senator Herman Talmadge (Dem., Ga.), has set up a separate program based on voluntary rather than compulsory compliance.

Pretty Wedding Ceremony At Rutland United Church

Bouquets and baskets of multi-colored gladioli decorated the Rutland United Church with a different shade of gladioli marking each pew to make a very pretty setting for the wedding at 4:30 p.m. on Saturday, July 23 of Verna Mae (Verna) Porter daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Alan Porter of Winfield and Vernon Albert Burnell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Burnell of Rutland.

Rev. A. H. Mundy officiated and the soloist, Mrs. Evelyn Stowe, sang "The Lord's Prayer" and during the signing of the register "Because," accompanied by organist Mrs. K. Slater.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was radiant in a length princess gown of nylon chiffon over tulle, sprinkled with lace appliques and lilies-of-the-valley, the bodice featured a lace yolk with a scalloped neckline and lace lily-point sleeves, the very full skirt was fashioned at the back with a gathered inverted Vee which gave the impression of a slight train. Her bouffant chapel-length veil of tulle was held in place with a large white rose fashioned in tulle and she carried a cascading bouquet of red roses.

Mrs. Gloria Hayes, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and Miss Mona Porter, sister of the bride, Mrs. Sharon Johnson and Mrs. Betty Day were the bridesmaids. All were dressed alike in street length dresses of white silk figured with chartreuse and dark green roses with an overlay of turquoise organza sheer, featuring bell-shaped skirts, fitted bodices and scoop necklines. Their headresses were turquoise organza rosettes and they carried crescent shaped bouquets of white gladioli with turquoise tinted centres.

Nieces of the bride, Sherrice and Jacqueline Hayes, were flower girls and were in picture in identical dresses of white organza over silk with a scalloped lace ruffle on the skirt, the vest of the lace-edged collar reached to the waist where they were held with a red rosebud, their headresses were a white organza flower surrounded with bouffant net to match the bride's and they carried miniatures of the bride's bouquet. Jackie Schneider, nephew of the groom, was the ring bearer.

Attending the groom as best man was his brother, Mr. Ted Burnell, the ushers were Mr. Brian Burnell, brother of the groom, Mr. Howard Johnson and Mr. Morio Ito.

One hundred and eight guests attended the reception which followed at the Capri Motor Inn. The mother of the bride received wearing a blue organza sheath dress with a matching three-quarter-length coat, both featuring a deep band of self embroidery at the hem. White accessories and a corsage of white carnations completed her ensemble. She was assisted by the groom's mother who chose a light and dark blue figured dress with matching jacket, a navy hat and white gloves and she wore a corsage of white carnations.

Emcee for the reception was Mr. Graham Dickie.

The bride's table was centred with a three-tiered wedding cake placed in a bed of white tulle and flanked by white tapers in silver candlesticks.

The toast to the bride was given by the bride's uncle, Mr. Hunter Miller, to which the groom ably responded. The toast to the bridesmaids was given by the best man and telegrams were read from relatives and friends in Bredenburg, Sask., Calgary, Edmonton, Lehigh, Prince George and Vancouver.

the bride's grandmother Mrs. T. A. Porter of Fort St. John, Mr. G. Heinrich of Bredenburg, Sask., Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bosch and Billy of Edmonton, Miss Helen Burnell of Unity, Sask., Mr. and Mrs. Hunter Miller, Margaret, Vicki and Bobby of Fort St. John, Mr. and Mrs. Pye Campbell of Victoria, Mrs. Judy Beal of Prince George, Mr. and Mrs. B. Pederson of North Vancouver, Mr. S. Mathe son of Trail, Miss Beverley Chester of Fernie, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Day of Merritt, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Thorvaldson, Joni and Shelby of Vancouver, Mr. and Mrs. C. Bjarnason, Joanne, Lana, Brenda, Bobby and Michael of Salmon Arm, Mr. and Mrs. H. Simons of Kamloops, Mr. and Mrs. D. Henry of Penticton.

The reception was followed by dancing to the music of Charles Pettman and his orchestra.

For her honeymoon motoring to Los Angeles, Calif., the bride changed into a beige silk oring three-quarter-length coat, organza sheath dress with matching accessories and a corsage of carnations tinted to match.

The newlyweds will reside in Prince George.—By the Courier Winfield correspondent.

AROUND TOWN

Regatta is over for another year and judging by the enormous crowd in the stadium and on streets of the city it has once again been a tremendous success. Some mistakes have been made in reporting on this page—as they probably would have been in any newspaper during such a hectic week—and some of the pictured groups taken at the various parties did not turn out well enough to publish, but we have tried to give you the fullest possible coverage of all the social events and activities supplementing the Regatta Shows.

Under the picture taken at the Regatta Garden Party, hosted by the Mayor and Aldermen of Kelowna at the Percy B. Williamson home, the name of Mrs. H. M. Trueman was inadvertently omitted. The underlines should have read from left to right Mrs. P. B. Williamson, Mrs. Garnet Marks, Mrs. H. M. Trueman and Mrs. R. C. Lucas. Our apologies to Mrs. Trueman.

Friends of Mrs. H. J. Van Ackeren will be pleased to hear that she has returned home after a short stay in the Kelowna General Hospital. Mrs. Van Ackeren who was a co-hostess with Mrs. R. P. Walrod and Mrs. C. E. Metcalfe of the wonderful pre-Regatta Barbecue Party held at Mrs. Walrod's home was unable to attend her party on account of sudden illness.

GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. James White, 1468 Innis Road will celebrate their 50th Wedding Anniversary on Thursday, Aug. 16. A luncheon in honor of the event will be held at the home of their son and daughter-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Ted White, 1821 Ethel Street on Sunday after 1 p.m. This is an open invitation to friends who have not been contacted.

OLD TIMER ATTENDS REGATTA

Seen at the Mayor's Regatta Garden Party last Friday, was Mr. J. P. Clement, of Victoria, who is truly one of the old timers of Kelowna. The author of the booklet "Early Days of Kelowna and District," J. Percy Clement was born on Aug. 16, 1880 at Portage La Prairie, Manitoba, arriving in Kelowna with his parents on March 30, 1898. In 1900 Mr. Clement opened the first book and stationery store in Kelowna, which he operated until 1907. He subsequently moved to Vancouver, and in 1952 retired in Victoria.

A staunch supporter of Kelowna over the years, Mr. Clement has attended regattas regularly. One of his hobbies, since moving to Victoria, is checking the provincial archives for items on the early history of Kelowna and District. Mr. J. P. Clement is the sole living member of the group of eight local citizens who in 1905, signed the original petition which was submitted to the Provincial Government, requesting Kelowna be incorporated a city. Mr. Clement is holidaying with his niece, Mrs. E. L. Adam, 1104 Kelmview St.

Mr. Peter Acland arrived on Monday for a two day visit with his father Captain H. V. Acland and Mrs. Acland. He will leave on Wednesday by air to return to Ottawa.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Lipsett had as recent guests at their Bankhead home, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Thomson of Vancouver. Also visiting the Lipsett family last week were Mr. and Mrs. Reg. Savage and three children from Ladner.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Saklofsky and family from Eyebrow, Saskatchewan, arrived on Monday to visit the former's brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. E. Saklofsky.

Ronald Rankin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Rankin is holidaying with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Rankin, and Mr. and Mrs. Turner Fumerton, having flown to Penticton from Cranbrook.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Pearson and family recently spent holidays at their summer camp at McKimley's Landing. They also motored to the coast for a few days' visit.

Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Munro with their sons Ross and Neil, have returned home from Seattle where they attended the World's Fair.

Mr. Jim Pantan, who acted as master of ceremonies for the Kelowna Regatta, and Mrs. Pantan spent the week as guests of Mr. Pantan's mother, Mrs. L. A. C. Pantan.

Mrs. Leonard Gaddes of Victoria was a Regatta guest of her mother and brother Mrs. J. M. Parkinson and Mayor R. F. Parkinson.

Mr. Alan R. Pearce of Victoria arrived on Sunday by air to visit the home of Mrs. Karen Strathford and family for a week.

Miss Corene Marshall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Marshall, celebrated her birthday last week with a party for a number of her little friends.

Miss Kay Davies, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Davies, Clifton Road, has returned home after a month's holiday at the coast.

OKANAGAN MISSION
Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Heyman, Eldorado Road have been Miss Sheila Mitchell of Vancouver, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert McGregor of Seattle, Wash.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Kerr, Cedar Creek, returned home recently after spending the past two and a half months visiting friends and relatives in Great Britain.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. D. Walker, Shella and Connie Walker of Victoria are spending a holiday with Mrs. W. D. Walker.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Blackie, Raymer Road, have had as their guests for a few days, the latter's cousins, Sisters Jean and Ramona of the Ursuline Convent at Prelate, Sask. Mrs. Blackie has also heard from her cousin Father Louis Hoffman, OMI, who has been posted to Peru. Mrs. Blackie attended his ordination a year ago.

Veronica (Ron) Blackie, ten year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Blackie, Raymer Road, celebrated her birthday on Tuesday, when she invited seven little friends in to a party in the afternoon.

Westbank Garden Club Awards Are Made

Westbank Garden Club this year sponsored a garden contest, final judging for which took place early this month with Alex Watt, Dist. Hort. from Summerland, and Mr. McDonald of the Penticton office, acting as judges.

Oliver Walker's garden on Boucherie Flat was awarded highest points, with Mrs. Tom Lunt, coming second. Third place was awarded A. M. Thompson, and Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Reece's garden placed fourth.

Presentation of the silver cup donated by Mr. Thompson for the best garden competition will be made at the club's September meeting, when Alex Watt will be present to discuss the pros and cons of the gardens inspected and judged this season.

Leaving Saturday for the prairie were Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Griffin and family, who motored to Mrs. Griffin's former home, Wapella, Sask. for a holiday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Cameron are home again after their holidays of the past month.

Can An Opera Starlet Fill A Huge Football Stadium?

Teresa Stratas, a Greek-Canadian opera starlet with black eyes, black hair, a golden voice and red-hot temperament will soon try to succeed where some of North America's most famous comedians have flopped.

On August 17 she will begin two weeks of nightly performances as the headliner at the Canadian National Exhibition Grandstand Show.

The Grandstand Show has become a boggy for established comedians. Phil Silvers and George Gobel both flopped there. Danny Kaye said the strain of playing to thousands was too great for him. Wayne and Shuster, Betty Hutton and Ed Sullivan were all asked to appear but, for one reason or another, all eventually refused.

Does Miss Stratas worry about the show's difficulties? Apparently not. "I feel inhibited singing in front of small groups," she says. At 24, she has already developed some of the temperament traditional with opera prima donnas and has acquired a stable of furs and a series of pets.

Miss Stratas' biggest triumph so far was last February when she won rave notices in New York newspapers for her singing of a lead part in the Metropolitan Opera Company's production of La Boheme. She has been hailed in La Scala and given a standing ovation in Moscow. But all this is a long way from the Grandstand Show.

"In the vast football field at the CNE she will face, at 5'4" and 113 pounds, a shirt-sleeve audience of as many as 22,000 on a given night."

Judging by Miss Stratas' tremendous success when she was starred at the Kelowna Regatta two years ago, and sang to an audience of several thousand people on the outdoor stage of the Osoyoos Stadium, she has nothing at all to worry about when she appears in the Canadian National Exhibition show.

Peachland Has Regatta Visitors

Mrs. Arthur Kopp left on Thursday for the Anglican camp at Wilson's Landing where she will act as leader of the girls' camp for the next ten days.

Visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Verne Cousins are Mr. and Mrs. L. Caul and children; Danny, Carol and Judy; and Mr. J. Bennett from Vancouver, Mr. and Mrs. H. Pieper and children from Edmonton.

Registered at the Totem Inn and attending the Kelowna Regatta are Mr. and Mrs. Jim Frizle and daughter, from Calgary.

Recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Hailstone were their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Verge and their three children from St. Catharines, Ont.

Mrs. William Morrison, of Glasgow, Scotland is enjoying a holiday with her brother-in-law and sister Mr. and Mrs. Robert Chapman at Trepanier Bay Cottages. Mrs. Morrison flew to Montreal from Scotland and crossed Canada via rail on her first trip to this country.

Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Caldwell and their two children, Don and Penny, of Sechelt were recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert West, Trepanier.

Recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Gerrie have been the Reverend and Mrs. Glen Baker, of Richmond, with their two daughters and Mr. and Mrs. J. Souter and daughter, Miss Donna Souter from Calgary.

Billy Davidson is holidaying with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Hailstone, Trepanier.

Murray Dell and Bob McNair, of Vancouver are holidaying in the district while staying with Mr. Dell's mother, Mrs. S. G. Dell. Miss Lois Dell arrived on Tuesday evening to spend her holidays with her mother.

Mrs. Steve Scammell and two sons Peter and Tony have returned to their home in White Rock following a holiday of three weeks visiting friends in the district.

Reeve C. O. Whinton, representing the Municipality of Peachland, attended the Civic Luncheon for the premiers of the provinces, on Wednesday. He will also attend the garden party given by the City of Kelowna, on Thursday afternoon.

Ladies Garment Workers Union Judged Guilty

WASHINGTON (AP)—The International Ladies Garment Workers' Union was judged guilty of a wide array of unfair labor practices in trying to prevent its employees from forming their own labor organization.

George A. Downing, trial examiner for the National Labor Relations Board, made the ruling against the ILGWU, a union affiliated with the AFL-CIO and headed by David Dubinsky, an AFL-CIO vice-president.

Among the charges cited by Downing were statements by Dubinsky expressing "hostility" to the Federation of Union Representatives, an organization formed by ILGWU employees to obtain bargaining rights on wages and grievances.

Downing recommended that the five-man NLRB require the ILGWU to cease interrogating employees regarding membership or activities of the federation seeking to get employees to renounce affiliation with it, or threatening employees belonging to it, or withholding usual annual wage increases.

ANN LANDERS

Tonto Wanted Not A Wife!

Dear Ann Landers: I'll comethen be in for real trouble. right to the point. I'm looking for a wife. First I'll tell you what I have to offer then I'll tell you what I want.

I'm 48, graduate engineer (University of Colorado) physically active, 5' 10", weight 140. I have a good income and can live comfortably till the end of my days.

I'm looking for an old-fashioned girl who likes mountain life—not just for a weekend, but all year 'round. She'll have to put up with some mighty cold weather, but she'll have clean, fresh air to breathe, and before her eyes at all times will be the most magnificent scenery in the world.

I want a woman who likes wild fruit and berries and would be willing to pick and prepare them. She'll have to clean fish and rabbits and wild birds. She should like swimming, but I'm not a member of a swimming pool. She'll have to handle a canoe, too.

I can't live in the city because of sinus trouble, so don't put me in touch with a woman who thinks she can talk me into it. I ought to tell you I've been married and divorced twice. Neither one of my ex-wives could take the cold weather. That's you.—GRAND LAKE, COLORADO

Dear Grand: You're not looking for a wife—you want Tonto, and the Lone Ranger already has him.

Dear Ann Landers: My mother makes her home with us and we all love her. Her presence has made it possible for me to do many things which otherwise would be out of the question.

For the past several years mother has come along with us on our vacation. My husband was not happy about the arrangement but he said nothing. Last summer she decided to visit her brother so my husband and I am the children took a cross-country trip without her. He let me know it was the greatest vacation ever. I got the hint, but made no point of it. This year he attempted to talk my mother into going to visit her sister, but she said she'd prefer to go with us. He has been sullen and uncommunicative ever since. Now he wants me to tell my mother that we want to take a vacation without her. How can I do it? Please tell me if he has the right to ask such a thing.—TORN ASUNDER

Dear Torn: If your husband would prefer a vacation without his mother-in-law he is entitled to it and you shouldn't feel guilty about telling her so. If you are not mature enough to speak up, your husband's resentment may take some odd shapes and forms. You would

A Social Air Pervades Dief's Press Conference

OTTAWA (CP) — Reporters on Parliament Hill, the guards, covering federal cabinet meetings, normally wait in a second-floor hall downtown. There they board way outside the Privy Council buses which whisk them to a chamber in Parliament Hill's side street near Government East Block for the breakfast of House, a mile away.

The guard then is reformed. When Prime Minister Diefenbaker's broken ankle first emerged behind brought cabinet meetings into the bedroom of his official residence, the reporters waited on the lawn in the shade of old chestnut trees.

Lately, it's been even better. Mr. Diefenbaker has taken to inviting the reporters to relax on the site lawn's patio. Coffee is served in dainty china cups, and there's always a cup for the late-comer.

In the formal gardens there are beds of roses, begonias and snapdragons. Along the fence, saucy blue and red petunias form a border footing the blue and green hues of the Gatineau Hills to the north.

When Mr. Diefenbaker's ankle mends sufficiently for him to attend cabinet meetings in the East Block again, the reporters will be back in the put more of their pet ideas late-comers have to sit on cold stone steps of a third-floor staircase.

The daily ceremony of the changing of the guard still is drawing thousands to Parliament Hill, but only a handful of tourists in the capital appear to be aware of another part of it.

The Regiment of Canadian Guards mounts its sentries at the gates of the Government House grounds and at the main entrance to Rideau Hall, the governor-general's residence.

Each day after the ceremony Azellus Denis of Montreal St.

Denis, veteran Liberal front-bencher, has been the chief critic of Postmaster-General William Hamilton since 1957. Mr. Denis was in Ottawa this week and friends asked him how he felt now that Mr. Hamilton, defeated in the election, no longer is in the house.

"Like an orphan," said Mr. Denis.

Theft Motive In Slaying

MONTREAL (CP) — Quebec Provincial Police said today they are convinced robbery was the motive behind the slaying of Maurice Beaulieu, 40, found dead with a bullet in his head Friday night near Richelieu racetrack in suburban Pointe-aux-Trembles.

They said he was reported to have won a large sum at the track earlier in the evening. His wallet was missing when police found his body.

Consumer Prices Up

OTTAWA (CP) — Consumer price indexes rose in nine of the 10 regional cities surveyed by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics in July, it was reported today.

The increases ranged from one-fifth of one per cent in Ottawa to seven-tenths of one per cent in Saint John.

St. John's, Nfld., was the only city to register a decrease in consumer prices. The index there was down one-tenth of one

The indexes, with the exception of that for St. John's, Nfld., are based on 1949 prices equalling 100. The St. John's index is based on 1961 prices equalling 100.

July indexes, with June figures bracketed: St. John's 117.3 (117.4), Halifax 130.3 (129.6), Saint John 131.8 (130.9), Montreal 131.1 (130.8), Ottawa 131.9 (131.7), Toronto 132.6 (132.8), Winnipeg 129.3 (129.1), Saskatoon-Regina 127.9 (127.4), Edmonton-Calgary 126.4 (126.9).

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By JAY BECKER

(Top Record-Holder in Masters Individual Championship Play.)
 West dealer.
 Neither side vulnerable.

NORTH		EAST
♠ A 8 7 6 3		♠ 10 9 5 4 2
♥ A 10 7 6 3		♥ K 9 4
♦ A 7 6		♦ 5 4 3
♣ A 7 6		♣ Q 9

Yesterday we described a hand played between Australia and the United States during the World Bridge Olympiad in Italy in 1960.

At both tables, the final contract was five diamonds doubled, but it was made at one table when the ace of hearts was opened, and defeated two tricks at the other table when the ace of spades was opened. Australia gained 850 points on the deal.

However, an interesting situation would have arisen if either pair had carried on to five hearts with the North-South cards. (The hands have been moved around in order to show South as declarer.)

Let's assume West leads the king of diamonds against five hearts. (An opening spade lead would not affect the result in any way.) Declarer ruffs in dummy, cashes the ace of spades, discarding a club, and trumps a spade. Then he alternately ruffs two diamonds and two spades.

He next enters dummy with the ace of clubs and ruffs the last spade. Declarer having trumped three diamonds in dummy and four spades in his own hand, this is now the position:

North		South
♠ A 10		♠ K 9 6
♥ J 6		♥ Q
♦ K 10 7		♦ 10
♣ A		♣ 8 5 3 2

South leads a club. He has lost no tricks to date. All he has to do is win two more tricks to make the contract, and the defense cannot prevent him from doing this.

If West plays low on the club lead, East wins with the queen and is forced to return a trump, thus handing South the contract.

If West goes up with the king on the club lead, he catches his partner's queen. Now if West returns a club, East ruffs and is employed, while if West returns the ace of diamonds instead, dummy discards the jack of clubs, forcing East to ruff and give dummy the last two tricks.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

FOR TOMORROW

Generous planetary influences! You should make excellent headway in practically all endeavors, but do be careful in written matters. Carelessness could result in costly errors. Romance and social interests are highly favored.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY

If tomorrow is your birthday, your horoscope indicates that, even though returns will not be immediate, it would be advisable to make plans for business and financial expansion now, since the next year gives promise of good results from constructive ideas. Promised, too, is co-operation from those who are interested in your welfare and who might well go out of their way to help you achieve cherished goals—if you are diplomatic in dealing with them.

Personal matters will be governed by generous influences for most of the year ahead, but be alert to possible domestic friction in October. Leo's tendency to domineer could be at the root of the trouble, so it's up to you to be on guard.

Best period for romance: September, late December and mid-1963; best periods for travel: the latter part of this month, January, June through August, and the next year. Avoid extravagance and speculation for the balance of this month; also in October and next March.

A child born on this day will be endowed with the qualities needed for success in government work, as a business executive or any other position of authority.

Reds Blast Braves To Take Third

It wasn't so long ago that Cincinnati Reds were written off as contenders for the 1962 National League pennant. But the Reds had other ideas.

They won their ninth straight game Monday night, 10-2 over Milwaukee Braves and are in third place in the league race, 6½ games back of the leading Los Angeles Dodgers.

The league's other clubs, including San Francisco Giants, who are 2½ games off the Dodge pace, were idle Monday night.

The Reds used the old formula, tight pitching by one of their young flamethrowers, and the big bat of Frank Robinson to churn down the Braves and run their won-loss record over their last 21 games to 23-5.

Jim O'Toole, 25-year-old left-hander who won 19 games last season, ran his record to 13-12 with a strong effort as he threw six perfect innings before Roy McMillan reached base on an error leading off the seventh inning. Lou Johnson and Eddie Mathews then singled and McMillan scored on Hank Aaron's hit.

TOYED WITH PIRATES

It was O'Toole's second flirtation with a perfect game this season. He got 23 Pittsburgh Pirates in a row July 23 before Bob Skinner doubled.

Robinson belted his second grand-slam home run of the year and had five runs batted in. He boosted his batting average to .342, tied for second with Stan Musial of St. Louis Cardinals—his RBI total to 102—tied for second in the league with San Francisco's Willie Mays—and his homer total to 27. He leads the league in doubles with 42.

Junior Upsets Can. Champ In Tennis Tourney

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Stephanie de Fina of Hollywood, Fla., 16-year-old high school junior, has scored a big upset in the United States girls' grass court tennis championships.

The left-hander defeated Vicki Berner of Vancouver, Canadian girl champion who was seeded No. 1 among Canadian entries.

de Fina, 6-1, 6-2 in the opening round 1st day.

adine Netter of Scarsdale, N.Y., defeated Brenda Nunns of Toronto, third-seeded foreign player, 6-4, 7-5.

Bowfield Sets Fast Pace To Down Red Sox

LOS ANGELES (AP)—It's said in an interview Monday getting to the point where major league pitchers take almost as long between deliveries as some milk trains.

Restless fans keep complaining that they've seen wars concluded with greater dispatch than many of today's baseball games. If those folks ever organize a club, they'll probably elect southpaw Ted Bowfield of Los Angeles Angels to their board of directors.

In a day when delay has become the fashion, Bowfield, 25-year-old native of Penticton, B.C., throws the ball back to his catcher as though it were a grenade set to explode in five seconds.

He breezed through nine innings in an hour and 57 minutes Monday night, even though the Angels took up considerable time scoring enough runs to beat Boston Red Sox 5-1 in their American League battle.

Bowfield was involved in one of the fastest major league games ever played here. He and another fast worker, Don Rudolph of Washington Senators, got together in a match July 16 that was over in one hour and 32 minutes.

"If I quit baseball and became just a fan, I don't think I'd come out and watch some of these guys pitch," Bowfield said.

SCHENLEY WINNER

Top winner at Saturday's power boat races on Okanagan lake was Seattle's Ben Lange.

1-MILE SWIM, DOG OBEDIENCE SHOW FEATURE IN AQUACADE

It's back to the Ogopogo Pool tonight for the season's fourth Aquacade.

The show will feature a one-mile swim across the lake with a field of six entries listed as definite starters and several more late comers expected.

In addition, the Kelowna Kennel Club will give a demonstration of canine obedience, something of a novelty for the regular Tuesday night shows, and the Gym Club will perform on the trampolines.

There will also be several swimming races on the card which is slated to go at 7:30 p.m. sharp. There will be no bingo on tonight's program.

Champs Come From Behind To Crush Calgary 54-27

CALGARY (CP)—Calgary's Edmonton Eskimos 20-16, third came after Funston re-pleted 14 of 20 throws. Keeling covered a Harvey Wylie fumble in the end zone.

Leo Lewis scored a major on an 83-yard romp in the first quarter, Ernie Pitts took another touchdown pass by Ploen and defensive halfback Dick Thornton got another when he intercepted a Jerry Keeling pass.

Gerry James kicked a field goal and converted five of the six touchdowns.

For Calgary, Dillard's majors came on a 65-yard pass-and-run play from Keeling and a 14-yard gallop into the end zone.

KEELING PLUNGES OVER Keeling got the other on a four-yard burst. Halfback Larry Robinson kicked two field goals and two converts. Walt Weaver got the other point when he punted for a single.

Calgary's offence accounted for 25 first downs while Winnipeg picked up 15. Stampeder's total offence was 439 yards, 313 on the ground and 126 through the air. Winnipeg rushed for 268 for a 403-yard offence.

Willows Finish Caps With 20-8 Shellacking

Willow Inn Willows became city senior softball champions last night by walloping the Blue Caps to the tune of 20-8 for their second straight victory in the two out of three series.

Wally Sehn picked up the big win for the Willows, allowing nine hits to go the distance. Losing hurler was Wayne Horning.

Willows banged out 15 hits off the Caps' hurler. Big men at the plate for the winners were P. Weninger and Wally Sehn, both with three hits in five at bats.

Nick Bulach collected three for four and Joe Duzik two for four for the losers.

Both teams were fairly close in the error department with the Blue Caps committing three and the Willows two.

An unconfirmed report states that the Willows now advance to the B.C. Senior B Softball Championships in Trail on Labor Day regardless of the outcome of a round robin series between Willows, Caps and Rutland Pioneers.

Labs, Metros Playoff Wed.

PENTICTON (CP)—Kelowna and Merritt will come together in a sudden-death playoff for the Okanagan-Mainline Baseball League pennant at Kamloops, Wednesday night.

With the two teams finishing in a tie for the league leadership last weekend the playoff date was decided at a league meeting Sunday but had been held up awaiting confirmation that the Kamloops diamond would be available.

Also at stake in the sudden-death final will be a trip to the coast. The winning club will represent the OMBL in the senior amateur provincial finals slated for Victoria, Sept. 1-23.

Bauble Costs Mountie Nurler A No Hitter

Gerry Arrigo is a young man cussing his luck today after a bauble cost him a no-hitter in the Pacific Coast League Monday night.

The Vancouver Mounties' 21-year-old southpaw handcuffed everyone in the Tacoma Giant lineup but rank Revelra, and even that depends on how you score it.

Revelra lashed a sinking liner to left centre in the sixth inning that Joe Christian ran for, juggled and dropped. It was ruled a single and Tacoma's only hit in Mounties' 2-0 victory.

San Diego Padres stretched their league lead to 11 games, meanwhile, as they completed a sweep of the five-game series against Salt Lake City with a 9-1 decision over the Bees. Hawaii edged Seattle 3-3 in the only other scheduled game.

HELD THE STRINGS

Arrigo was in complete control as he tamed the Giants. Only two other balls were hard-hit off the southpaw and the Vancouver infield came up with brilliant catches to protect their pitcher. Tacoma runners didn't get as far as second.

EXPORT PLAIN or FILTER TIP CIGARETTES

Aged naturally in the traditional manner ... to assure Old Style flavour!

Old Style WATER

It, too, has distinction!

The clear, sparkling water of British Columbia is a brewing ingredient unequalled in Canada. Our original recipe calls distinctly for this pure mountain water. Blended in our brewing kettle with hops and barley, its goodness comes to life. Then, finally, in our ageing cellars the brew slowly matures into the brilliant golden colour and the supreme flavour that is Old Style. Fortunately, this traditional manner of brewing does not go unnoticed—as evidenced by the many people who prefer Old Style.
